

Cutout the model and score the foldlines and the glue-flaps. Construct the arms, legs and both parts of the head first. When glueing the body together, first glue the complete left side together before starting on the right side.